Cool and Comfortable Buildings

Smart building design can help achieve thermal comfort with reduced or no need for mechanical cooling like ACs.¹

If buildings were designed to make inhabitants feel comfortable naturally, then we could reduce the need for mechanical cooling by 50–80%.²

Sources:

#KeepItCool